1. Documentation

- a. Official transcripts: Official and Complete Transcript issued by all institutions awarding degrees and/or credits and certified by an authorized officer of that institution mailed directly to St Stephen's College. If the degree awarded includes transfer credits from other institutions, a transcript from the credit-granting institution is also required.  - post-secondary education: degrees held, institutions, dates

St. Stephen's College understands ministry from a broad and inclusive perspective as a lifelong spiritual exploration in which practitioners are self-reflectively aware of the nurturing quality of their activities in the service of the human community and Earth. SSC community consists of practitioners from such fields as education, faith/religious community assignments, chaplaincy, mediation, management, media services, the arts, health care, counselling, multicultural relationships, and care of our planet.*

- f. DMin-SE applicants only: Proof of CASC/ACSS Certification as a Specialist
- g. DMin-SE applicants only: Letter from a CASC/ACSS Certified Supervisor-Educator stating willingness to supervise the applicant as a Provisional Supervisor-Educator (St Stephen's College will appoint this CASC/ACSS Certified Supervisor-Educator to the voluntary position of Faculty Advisor for the duration of the student's program.)

2. References

Four assessments from individuals involved with the applicant's specialized ministry. The four letters of reference must be sent directly to St Stephen's using the form provided, and will be from:

- a. a denominational/faith group official

- c. two peers in ministry who are able to assess the applicant's readiness for advanced study.

The references must indicate the length and nature of their relationship to the applicant, and are asked to comment on:

- (i) character, personality, and capacity for personal growth and development
- (ii) clarity of commitment to advanced degree study in professional ministry

- (iii) academic ability for graduate work
 - (iv) capacity for work in an educational model which emphasizes reflection on experience and personal growth as well as knowledge and skill development
 - (v) emotional stability
 - (vi) leadership and vocational qualities
 - (vii) general readiness for pursuing their goals by means of the proposed course of study
- d. If applicable, an SPE unit evaluation or an evaluation from another practice-based learning experience (e.g. training as spiritual director, church management training, field education supervision training, etc.)

Interview:

All potential DMin applicants will attend an admission interview as part of the application process. Intake interviews will reflect on the applicant's learning goals and determine the applicant's appropriateness for admission to the DMin program. For those in the Supervisory Education Specialization: a CASC/ACSS Regional Admitting Committee (RAC) review process is also required; this is distinct and separate, and results in approval for the applicant to learn at the supervisory level. A person in this Specialization can be admitted to the DMin program but cannot complete Foundational Practicum SE2 without RAC approval.

Equivalencies in Theology:

Admission requirements for the DMin include a Master's degree in Theology/Spirituality/Religion (e.g. MDiv, MRE or MTS), or a Master's degree in a related field with study in the areas of theology, religious history, and sacred texts (e.g. MSc plus additional courses). The additional courses must be completed before participating in the DMin program. Prospective students who do not possess a degree in Theology/ Spirituality/Religion are encouraged to seek contact early and may be able to take courses to meet their needs during the months preceding their application. The Committee's decision whether or not to accept an application is final.

Application deadlines: In order to participate in the Integrative Seminar of a given year applicants must submit their completed applications to the College no later than February 1 for Canadian applicants and November 1 for international applicants (next business day if date falls on a weekend). Applicants requiring an evaluation of academic equivalencies must submit their completed application to the College by December 1 (September 1 for international applicants).
